

AP Limited Editions

By popular demand, AP Limited Editions has launched a new collection category that comprises limited edition maki-e pens launched in a series of 18 of each distinctive design. This new category of pens is priced very competitively, considering that each writing instrument is hand-crafted in traditional urushi and maki-e application by the talented artisans who have represented AP Limited Editions for the past 16 years. "Radiant Raden" (above) is a backdrop of brilliant black urushi decorated with horizontal and vertical bands of square-shaped great green turban shells over which urushi lacquer is applied and burnished three times to a mirror-like finish, and its section is crafted in fabulous shimmering blue raden. Equally stunning and artfully crafted is "Mother of Pearl" (right). "Radiance" (far right) uses the same precise technique with round dots of shell over urushi. Each converter-filling fountain pen is a cylindrical body of ebonite with flat-edged barrel and cap crowns and a lacquered AP Limited Editions logo at the finial. This series of fine writing instruments has 14 kart gold nibs with AP Limited Editions logo engraving in extra-fine, fine, medium, broad, italic, or stub. See more of this collection from AP Limited Editions in our August 2022 issue ("The Church of Maki-e," p. 48).

MSRP: starting at $4,500
aplimitededitions.com