

Liberty Enlightening The World A Limited Edition Of 9 pens

Our pens celebrate Life and the values worth living by; inviting you to experience a transient world in perfect moments of timelessness that are immortalized in the finest visual expressions on writing instruments hand crafted by a very skilled set of artists who face challenging economies to keep heritage art forms alive.

Our pens celebrate multiculturalism and reflect our philosophy of unity in diversity and harmony in contrasts. It is our intent to marry traditional art techniques of one culture and explore new ways of creating unique Art, experimenting with non-traditional themes, different cultural forms and blending techniques of one with the other.

Liberty Enlightening The World inspires this first expression of blending Japanese Maki-e Art and Palekh School of Lacquer Art.

This stunning fine writing instrument has been crafted by Artists belonging to two different Art Traditions, using two very different techniques of Heritage Lacquer Crafts to produce a superb tribute to Liberty Enlightening The World.

Meticulously crafted with finely sliced abalone shell pieces (0.8 mm) attached one piece at a time, dotted with 50 shimmering stars, crafted in Platinum powder and white Urushi; this special rendition of the Statue of Liberty features Japanese Lacquer Art techniques of inlay and Maki-e.

The historical unveiling of the Liberty Statue in 1886, inspired by Edward Moran's (1829-1901) artwork, is captured in the reflective hues of the Palekh School of Lacquer Art.
